PRESS RELEASE

Net Entertainment to Nasdaq OMX Stockholm Mid Cap

Nasdaq OMX Stockholm has decided to move Net Entertainment (NET B) from the Small Cap list to Mid Cap. The change is effective January 4, 2010.

Net Entertainment NE AB was introduced on Nasdaq OMX Stockholm's Small Cap list as recently as January 13, 2009. Less than one year later the share is now moved to the Mid Cap list for companies with a market cap between Euro 150 million and 1 billion. The reason is the favorable price development for the Net Entertainment share. The price has increased by 100 percent since the trading was initiated on Nasdaq OMX Stockholm.

"Net Entertainment has continued to report strong growth and profitability during the year. The move to Mid Cap is a milestone in the company's development"; says Johan Öhman, CEO for Net Entertainment in a comment to the decision.

"Thanks to Net Entertainment's strong development this year we are ready to move the share to the Mid Cap list. It is a pleasure to see a company achieve such strong development during a short period", says Jenny Rosberg, Senior Vice President Nasdaq OMX in a comment.
