NetEnt launches latest Asian-themed slot Sweety Honey Fruity

New game gives the classic fruit machine-based slot a twist with a taste of the Orient.

NetEnt has expanded its selection of Asia-inspired slots with the launch of the highly energetic Sweety Honey Fruity™.

The low-medium volatility game is a five-reel, 15-bet line video slot that combines an Oriental backdrop and traditional music with an exotic fruit theme.

Dragon fruit, star fruit and juicy melons are among the tasty treats bursting onto the reels and combining to activate wild substitutions and free spins.

Sweety Honey Fruity is NetEnt's latest Asian-focused title, following last month's release of Twin Happiness™.

"Asian-focused titles are a key part of our game release roadmap as we develop the theme within our portfolio in response to player and market demand.

"Sweety Honey Fruity quickly follows the successful launch of Twin Happiness and we have two more entertaining titles lined up before the end of the year. With each slot having its own unique style and features, we're developing the offering for all types of slots fans," said Bryan Upton, NetEnt Director of Games.
