NetEnt Group debuts Red Tiger games in the US with Rush Street Interactive

Red Tiger makes its US market launch at RSI's BetRivers.com and PlaySugarHouse.com sites in Pennsylvania

Supported by NetEnt's licence in Pennsylvania, Red Tiger has directly integrated with one of the market leading gaming operators, Rush Street Interactive, and a range of Red Tiger titles are now available for players in the state. The initial launch of games includes Gonzo's Quest™ MegaWays™ and Cash Volt. These player favourites will also be joined soon by some of Red Tiger's most popular seasonal titles.

"We are excited to partner with NetEnt Group to be the first online operator in Pennsylvania to bring these top-quality Red Tiger casino games to our players," said Richard Schwartz, President of Rush Street Interactive, which operates BetRivers.com and PlaySugarHouse.com. "To also be the first to debut Red Tiger slots in the US is thrilling, and we have no doubt that these already proven online casino games will quickly become favorites for our players."

Furthermore, Red Tiger's well-renowned local and daily jackpots are due to be made available to BetRivers and PlaySugarHouse players in Pennsylvania later this year.

"We're proud to have reached this milestone of entering the US market with Red Tiger content, particularly while working to deliver the project in such an accelerated fashion. This progress really demonstrates the capabilities of NetEnt Group," said Brian Kraft, NetEnt Vice President Commercial, Americas. "Given the success we've had with NetEnt games I expect this important addition to further strengthen our position as market leader in the US and we're delighted to be launching with Rush Street Interactive, a market leader in their own right. Looking ahead, we will aim to expand Red Tiger games into further regulated states in the coming months."
